AMERICAN PASTOR LOST ON PERSIA, U. S. EMBASSY IN LONDON HEARS

London, Jan. 5.-The American Embassy here has received a report saying that the Rev. Homer R. Salisbury, an American, was passenger on the Peninsular and Oriental liner Persia, but that he was not included among the survivors.

The Rev. Mr. Salisbury's home was in Tacoma Park, Washington, D. C. He boarded the Persia at Marseilles, going to join his wife, who

The Peninsular and Oriental Steamship Company confirms the report that Mr. Salisbury embarked on the vessel at Marseilles.

Washington, Jan. 5 .- The Rev. Mr. Salisbury was superintenden for India of the Seventh Day Adventist missions. His mother lives in Battle Creek, Mich., and his brother, W. R. Salisbury, in Glendale, Cal. Officials of the Seventh Day Adventist General Conference, at Tacoma Park, a suburb of Washington, said to-day that Dr. Salisbury was on his way back to Lucknow, his headquarters. He had expected to take a Dutch steamship from London, but evidently changed his plans after leaving here. In London he was to have been joined by another Seventh Day Adventist missionary for the trip to India.
